Administrative Home: Department of Environmental Toxicology
Revision date(s): 5/27/2014
Graduate Council Approval: August 14, 2014

Article I. Objective

A. Degree(s) offered by the program: Ph.D., M.Sc.

B. Discipline: This program offers interdisciplinary training in pharmacology and toxicology. This discipline draws heavily on the disciplines of biochemistry, cell and molecular biology and physiology. Areas of research span fundamental and translational research in a broad spectrum of areas within pharmacology and toxicology, including cardiovascular pharmacology, cancer therapeutics, neuropharmacology, drug discovery and design, neurotoxicology, pulmonary toxicology and environmental toxicology.

C. Mission of the Program: The Graduate Group in Pharmacology and Toxicology (hereafter referred to as the Group) is organized primarily to establish and administer graduate training leading to the Master of Science and Doctor of Philosophy degrees in Pharmacology and Toxicology, in conformance with the rules of the Office of Graduate Studies of the Davis of the University of California.

Article II. Membership

A. Criteria for Membership in the Graduate Program

1. Appropriate academic and teaching titles, as detailed in Graduate Council Policy GC1998-02 (rev. 03), refer to policy for a full list of membership categories. http://gradstudies.ucdavis.edu/graduate-programs/policies

Members must hold an appropriate academic title as (a) a member of the Academic Senate of the University of California (includes Professors, Lecturers with Security of Employment, Professors in Residence, Professors of Clinical “,” Professors Emeritus/a, and Research Professors), (b) Adjunct Professor, (c) Lecturer (without Security of Employment) or (d) Lecturer Without Salary. Academic staff with primary appointments as Cooperative Extension Specialists or in the Professional Research series are not eligible to be members of graduate programs unless they also hold an appropriate instructional title (normally Lecturer Without Salary).

2. Active research appropriate to the discipline(s) encompassed by the program.

Graduate Groups use: Membership is independent and separate from academic department appointments. Membership is based upon disciplinary expertise and active research, so members throughout campus are eligible for consideration to membership in the group.
3. Voting rights.
   All resident members are eligible to vote on graduate program matters. See GC2011-04, Policy on Quorum, Voting Rights and Responsibility.

B. Application for membership.

1. How faculty may apply:
   Faculty can apply for membership by initiating direct contact with the Program Administrator, the Program Chair or any member of the Executive Committee. Alternatively an existing member of the Group can initiate contacts with a qualified faculty and nominate the candidate for membership. Considering the broad interdisciplinary focus of the Group, faculty with an active research program in a biomedical discipline are encouraged to apply. It is incumbent on the applicant to describe the relevance of their research and teaching goals to the broader missions of the Graduate Group. It is also understood that applicants are willing to contribute to the mission of the Graduate Group, including research training of graduate students, teaching, and administration of the Graduate Group. To apply for membership, faculty are required to submit the following documentation to the Chair of the PTX Membership Committee: 1) A current curriculum vitae or biosketch, including grant support and training record; 2) A listing of teaching experience over the past 5 years including a comment on relevance to Pharmacology and Toxicology graduate education; 3) an indication as to specific topics/areas of expertise you are willing to teach in the PTX curriculum; 4) Specification of areas of specialization in pharmacology and toxicology that align with your research interests (e.g., Neuro, Respiratory, Developmental, Genetic, Clinical, Metabolic Fate, Pharmacokinetics, Environmental Toxicology, Aquatic Toxicology); 5) A short narrative or list that describes research experience relevant to participation in the Graduate Group in Pharmacology and Toxicology (past 5 years); 6) Explanation of the suitability of your laboratory environment for training M.S. and/or Ph.D. students in Pharmacology and Toxicology; 7) Description of current funding to support the training of a PTX graduate student; 8) Indication of particular areas in which you might make a unique or specific contribution to the group: Teaching, Research, or Services; 9) a bibliography that indicates recent publications in Pharmacology and/or Toxicology; 10) Written confirmation that the faculty member currently holds an appointment in a Department at the University of California, Davis.

2. Anticipated contributions that graduate faculty members will perform as a member.
   a. Active role in the administration of the graduate program by serving on graduate program administrative committees; as a graduate adviser (not to be confused with being a major professor); or as an administrative officer of the program.
   b. Providing graduate level instruction, as appropriate, in addition to research instruction.
   c. Service on dissertation/thesis and qualifying examination/master’s comprehensive examination committees.

C. Emeritus Status.
   Emeritus faculty with active research programs may remain members of the program and are afforded the following rights: they may attend and participate in program activities (including meetings and administrative committees), may teach graduate courses, and may serve on student committees. Emeritus faculty are afforded the right to vote on policy and bylaw issues related to the program.
D. Review of Membership

The criteria for reviewing members of the program is the same for all members. Each faculty member’s contributions to the program shall be reviewed once every three years for the purpose of identifying faculty members who are not providing a minimal level of service to the program.

This review will be conducted by the Committee on Membership, who will review on a yearly basis one-third of the membership. The review will focus on the areas defined in Section B. above, “Anticipated Contributions by Members.”

Faculty whose record reflects poor performance in any of these areas will be subject to non-renewal or to a probationary period in which greater involvement must be demonstrated as a condition of continuing membership.

E. Membership Appeal Process

If membership is denied or not renewed, faculty can appeal to the Executive Committee for reconsideration. Applicants denied membership or renewal of membership by the Executive Committee may make a final appeal to the Dean of Graduate Studies.

Article III. Administration

The administration of the program and its activities will be vested in the Group Chair and an Executive Committee.

Article IV. Graduate Program Chair

A. Chair appointment process

Graduate Group Chair:
The Chair will be appointed in accordance with the Academic Personnel Manual policy UCD-245.B and the policies and procedures of the Graduate Council and the Office of Graduate Studies.

A “Nominating Committee” will be named by the Executive Committee to solicit names of nominees for Graduate Group Chair from the faculty and graduate students of the group. Those nominated will then be contacted regarding their willingness to serve. The names of the nominees who have indicated a willingness to serve will then be submitted to the Group’s faculty and graduate students for comments. All comments will remain confidential.

The Nominating Committee will forward at least one name to the Dean of Graduate Studies along with all comments received on the nominees. All comments solicited from faculty and students of the group will be treated as confidential information by the Group’s Nominating Committee and by the Office of Graduate Studies.

If the Group puts forward more than one nominee, it may express a preference for one and, if it does, should indicate the basis for determining that preference. The nominee(s) may be interviewed by the Dean of Graduate Studies (or delegate) and will then forward his/her recommendation to the Chancellor for appointment. The normal term of the Chair’s appointment is three years; however, what is recommended will be based on the nominees’ willingness to serve.
